REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD.

VICTORIA CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 3rd July, 1915.)

War Office,
3rd July 1915.

His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Victoria Cross to No. 2026 Lance-Corporal Leonard James Keyworth, 24th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's), Territorial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery at Gwenchy on the night of 25th-26th May, 1915. After the successful assault on the German position by the 24th Battalion, London Regiment, efforts were made by that Unit to follow up their success by a bomb-attack, during the progress of which 58 men out of a total of 75 became casualties.

During this very fierce encounter Lance-Corporal Keyworth stood fully exposed for 2 hours on the top of the enemy's parapet, and threw about 150 bombs amongst the Germans who were only a few yards away.

(Extract from the London Gazette dated 24th July 1915.)

War Office,
24th July, 1915.

His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officers and Non-commissioned Officers :—

Captain Eustace Jotham, 51st Sikhs (Frontier Force).

For most conspicuous bravery on 7th January, 1915, at Spina Khaisora (Tochi Valley).

During operations against the Khostwal tribesmen, Captain Jotham, who was commanding a party of about a dozen of the North Waziristan Militia, was attacked in a nullah and almost surrounded by an overwhelming force of some 1,500 tribesmen. He gave the order to retire, and could have himself escaped, but most gallantly sacrificed his own life by attempting to effect the rescue of one of his men who had lost his horse.

Second Lieutenant George Raymond Dallas Moor, 3rd Battalion, The Hampshire Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery and resource on 5th June, 1915, during operations south of Krithia, Dardanelles. When a detachment of a Battalion on his left, which had lost all its officers, was rapidly retiring before a heavy Turkish attack, Second Lieutenant Moor, immediately grasping the danger to the remainder of the line, dashed back some 200 yards, stemmed the retirement, led back the men, and recaptured the lost trench.

This young Officer, who only joined the Army in October, 1914, by his personal bravery and presence of mind, saved a dangerous situation.

No. 465 Lance-Corporal Albert Jacka, 14th Battalion, Australian Imperial Forces.

For most conspicuous bravery on the night of the 19th-20th May, 1915, at "Courtney's Post," Gallipoli Peninsula.

Lance-Corporal Jacka, while holding a portion of our trench with four other men, was heavily attacked. When all except himself were killed or wounded, the trench was rushed and occupied by seven Turks. Lance-Corporal Jacka at once most gallantly attacked them single-handed, and killed the whole party, five by rifle fire and two with the bayonet.

No. 10073 Lance-Corporal Joseph Tombs, 1st Battalion, The King's (Liverpool Regiment).

For most conspicuous gallantry near Rue du Bois, on 16th June, 1915. On his own initiative he crawled out repeatedly under a very heavy shell and machine gun fire, to bring in wounded men who were lying about 100 yards in front of our trenches. He rescued four men, one of whom he dragged back by means of a rifle sling placed round his own neck and the man's body. This man was so severely wounded that unless he had been immediately attended to he must have died.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 3rd July, 1915.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointment of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Force:—

Captain Amyas Eden Borton, The Black Watch (Royal Highlanders), attached Royal Flying Corps.

Captain Anthony Marshall, 28th Light Cavalry, Indian Army, attached Royal Flying Corps.

When on flying reconnaissance over the neighbourhood of Staden on 7th June, 1915, Captain Borton was wounded in the head and neck by a bullet fired from a hostile aeroplane, and although suffering severely from loss of blood he continued, with the assistance of the Observer, Captain Marshall, to bandage his wounds and completed the reconnaissance on the prescribed course. His injuries are such that he is not yet out of danger.

Captain Marshall continued his observations after rendering all possible aid to the Pilot, who was gradually losing consciousness, notwithstanding that the German aeroplane was persistently attacking.

The valuable report supplied by this Officer is as detailed and complete for the last as it is for the first part of the reconnaissance.

Major George Harold Absell Ing, 2nd Dragoon Guards (Queen's Bays).

At Ypres, on 13th May, 1915, when the line was broken beyond the right flank of his regiment, he came out of his trench in the front line, stood on the road in the open under heavy shell fire, stopped the retirement of 40 men of another unit, and turned them into his section of the defence. The good results of this gallant action were far reaching.

Major Philip Granville Mason, 3rd (Prince of Wales's) Dragoon Guards.
Whilst in command of Hooge Fort and the adjoining trenches, showed conspicuous gallantry and ability in holding the village and defence line allotted to him, notwithstanding a terrific bombardment for several hours every day from 30th May, till 2nd June, 1915, in which practically all his trenches and dug-outs were blown in.

Capt. John Grey Porter, 9th (Queen's Royal) Lancers.

On May 10th, 1915, when a very heavy attack was made on the front line near Hooge, Captain Porter went up to the infantry line there and brought back very valuable information regarding the situation. On the 13th May he rendered the greatest possible assistance in taking messages under terrific shell fire to various parts of the line and reporting on various local situations. He set an example of coolness and total disregard of danger that was beyond all praise. He has been twice wounded previously in this campaign.

Major Charles William Henry Crichton, 10th (Prince of Wales's Own Royal) Hussars.

Near Ypres on the 13th May, 1915, showed conspicuous gallantry and ability in collecting and rallying men who were retiring under heavy shell fire through the 10th Hussars' position.
In our counter-attack he continued to direct operations, giving great encouragement to his men whilst he lay in the open under heavy shell fire with his leg shattered.

Major John Ross Colville, 55th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

Commanded his battery with great gallantry during the operations 9th and 10th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, observing fire from an isolated tree close behind the trenches, which were being heavily shelled. This Officer has been previously brought to notice for valuable work at Neuve Chapelle when he observed fire from the ruined houses and sent excellent information for 36 hours under continuous shell and rifle fire.

Captain The Honourable Bertrand Joseph Russell (Reserve of Officers), 104th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

On 9th May, 1915, near Rue Petillon (Fromelles) this Officer commanded a section in the trenches, greatly helping the infantry. He was heavily shelled all day, the parapet in front of one gun being destroyed. They kept on firing, however, and the success was greatly due to the courage displayed by Captain Russell, who was twice wounded early in the day.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—contd.

Major William Frederick Maxwell, Royal Engineers (attached Lahore Divisional Signal Company).

Near Ypres, during the operations from 24th April to 4th May, 1915, he rendered excellent service when responsible for maintaining the signalling communications of the Division under most trying circumstances. The work was very heavy, and he also had to direct the constant repair of lines cut by the continuous heavy fire.

This Officer has done consistently well throughout the campaign.

Major Edward Metcalfe Beall, 4th Battalion, The King's (Liverpoo Regiment).

For excellent work throughout the operations near Ypres from 24th April to 4th May, 1915, especially during the attack of the 27th April, when he was with the leading company in the front line. He returned to Battalion Headquarters for reinforcements and took them forward with him to the front line.

He was also conspicuous in the attack on 1st May.

Captain Singleton Bonner, 1st Battalion, The South Staffordshire Regiment).

For particularly good and gallant services rendered at Festubert from 16th to 18th May, 1915, when he showed a fine example in coolness, bravery and power of command.

Captain Edmund Rochfort Street, 3rd Battalion, The Sherwood Foresters (Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment).

For conspicuous good work under heavy fire between 13th and 16th May, 1915, near Le Touquet, and for going down a gassed mine to assist in the rescue of men.

Captain Percy Wood, 5th Battalion, The Durham Light Infantry, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry displayed in rallying troops under heavy bomb and hand grenade fire, and for holding an advanced trench partly occupied by the enemy for four hours, until ordered to retire to a new line.

He greatly impeded the enemy by building obstacles and entanglements in the trench down which the retirement took place.

Captain David Bannerman Burt-Marshall, Seaforth Highlanders (Ross-shire Buffs, The Duke of Albany's) Signal Service.

During the heavy fighting and gassing east of Ypres, early on the morning of 24th May, 1915, he was sent forward to get in touch with the front line and to remain there, keeping his Brigadier-General informed of the progress of events. This he did with conspicuous success, continually travelling over fire swept ground to establish communication.

Every Commanding Officer has brought his name to notice for the good work done on that day. His reports were valuable and always perfectly clear. He was wounded in the shoulder about midday, but continued to carry on duties, not even waiting to have the wound dressed.

Captain John Patrick Michael Ingham, 4th Battalion, The Connaught Rangers.

On 26th April, 1915, in the action near Ypres, displayed great gallantry in leading his men forward beyond the last piece of cover, and when the few men who had reached him were finally stopped by very heavy close-range fire (most of them being wounded), exposed himself time after time in re-organising them, and later in the afternoon in assisting in bringing under cover those who were helpless from their wounds.

When night fell he was indefatigable in assisting to organise the defence of the line held.

This Officer has been brought to notice before for the excellence of his work since October, 1914.

Major George James Christie, 9th (The Dumbartonshire) Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders), Territorial Force

Showed conspicuous bravery in rallying his men near Wieltje on the 24th May, 1915, and leading about 50 of them up to the front line through the gas and heavy shell fire. It is understood that this Officer did excellent work on 10th May when attached to another Brigade, but owing to his Colonel being killed on that day his good work was not mentioned.

Captain Henry George Moreton Railston, 1st Battalion, The Rifle Brigade (The Prince Consort's Own).

For great gallantry at Hannebeek on 3rd May, 1915. He was in command of a section of the front trench 200 yards long. The trench and all the traverses were smashed by shell fire and all the garrison except three men killed or wounded. Captain Railston had been slightly wounded and had been buried by a shell, but he continued to defend the trench and displayed the greatest coolness throughout, keeping back the enemy with rapid fire. He held the trench with his small party for several hours until it was impossible to reinforce him, and when the question of retirement was mooted he refused to entertain the suggestion.

Captain Alfred John Hamilton Bowen, 2nd Battalion, The Monmouth Regiment, Territorial Force.

On the 13th May, 1915, east of Ypres, though wounded in two places in the head before dawn, refused to leave his company, and continued to command it with conspicuous ability. After the action was over and the Battalion returned to La Brique he was found to be suffering from two other wounds in the body. He was then sent to hospital.

Captain William George Clarke, 4th (City of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (Royal Fusiliers), Territorial Force.

Near Ypres, on 27th May, 1915, while under very heavy shell and rifle fire he collected men of his own and other companies, gallantly led them forward and held the position he gained until ordered to retire after dark.

Captain Edmund Gibbs Kimber, 1/13th (County of London) Princess Louise's Kensington Battalion, The London Regiment, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous ability and coolness in leading his company and getting it into position under a heavy fire south of Farm Delangre on 9th May, 1915. He held on to his position for six hours, with heavy casualties, until nearly surrounded by the enemy, and then extricated the remnants of his company.

Captain Donald Whitely Figg, 24th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous and continuous gallantry on the night of 25th-26th May, 1915, and following day at Givenchy, when, after taking part in an assault on a trench, he led repeated rushes with bombs into a German work, and when most of the bombers were killed continued the attack single-handed. His extraordinary bravery and disregard of danger enabled the dangerous flank he commanded to hold its own against constant assaults by the German bombers and riflemen. On the 26th May, when his line was enfiladed by rifle and very heavy shell fire, his determination held his men to their ground until relieved four hours later. For seventeen hours his conduct was a brilliant example to the hard-pressed men around him, and more than anyone in the Battalion he contributed to the successful retention of the position won.

With reference to the notification in the London Gazette of the 3rd June, 1915, the acts of gallantry and distinguished services at the Dardanelles for which the rewards of the Distinguished Service Order were granted by His Majesty The KING are as follows:—

Lieutenant Henry Desmond O'Hara, 1st Battalion, The Royal Dublin Fusiliers.

On 25th April, 1915, at Sedd-el-Bahr, took command of his Battalion when all other officers had been killed or wounded. At night, when the enemy broke through the line, he displayed great initiative and resource in organising a successful counter-attack, restoring the line and causing great loss to the enemy.

(Extract from the London Gazette dated 24th July, 1915).

His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the undermentioned rewards for gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

To be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieutenant-Colonel James Thomas Rankine Wilson, 1st/5th Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment) (Queen's Edinburgh Rifles), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous ability and resource on 19th June, 1915, during operations in the neighbourhood of Krithia, Dardanelles, where he reorganised and carried out the recapture of a Turkish trench from which the troops of another division had been forced back. The success gained was due to Lieutenant-Colonel Wilson's skilful and bold leading and his prompt assumption of responsibility.

Captain Charles Leathley Armitage, 6th Battalion, The Worcestershire Regiment (attached 2nd Battalion).

For conspicuous coolness and gallantry in an assault on the German lines at Richebourg on the night of 15th May, 1915. He led the assault in the face of a heavy rifle and machine gun fire, and, after his assault had been forced back he skilfully withdrew and reorganised the attack behind our breastworks. He also showed conspicuous ability in organising the rescue of the wounded under heavy fire throughout the night.

Captain Alec Walter Saumarez Brock, 2nd Battalion, The Leicestershire Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry, near Neuve Chapelle, on May 1st, 1915, when in command of a company containing 50 per cent. of reinforcements who had not previously been under fire. His trench was heavily bombarded and several casualties occurred, while he himself was knocked down and badly bruised by the explosion of a big shell. It was owing to his coolness and skill in getting his men under cover that the casualties were not much heavier and that his company was ready to receive and repulse an infantry attack made later by the enemy. Captain Brock displayed the highest qualities of a company commander under very trying circumstances.

Captain Harold Brown, 5th Battalion, Alexandra, Princess of Wales's Own (Yorkshire Regiment) Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on several occasions, notably near Hooge, on the night of June 11th, 1915, when he made a very successful reconnaissance of the German trenches. He remained out close to the German barbed wire for 1½ hours, although fired at several times.

Both before and since this occasion Captain Brown has made similar daring and successful reconnaissances.

Captain William Malcolm Lingard Escombe, 20th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (Blackheath and Woolwich) Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in establishing himself on the crest of the Givenchy bluff on May 26th, 1915, under very heavy fire, and from there directing bomb-throwers with great success for an hour. His prompt action not only repelled a hostile attack, but secured fresh ground, which was consolidated.

Captain Lewis Pugh Evans, 1st Battalion, The Black Watch (Royal Highlanders).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on June 16th, 1915, at Hooge, when, after troops had become much mixed up, he continually moved up and down the firing line under heavy fire from 10 a.m. till midnight reorganising Units and bringing back their reports.

Captain Harry Granville Lee-Warner, 9th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during the operations near Rue du Bois, from 9th to 19th May, 1915. He was twice shelled out of his observation stations, and did excellent work under heavy shell fire.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—Contd.

Captain Maurice Clive Radford, 1st Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Cuinchy on the night of 21st June, 1915, when the Germans pumped gas into a mine in which four of our men were on listening post. Under direction of Captain Radford, who displayed great gallantry and resource, the efforts of two N.C.O.'s and two men, who bravely went down the mine, were successful in getting the men out. At about 4.15 a.m. on 22nd June, following their gas attack, the Germans exploded a mine in front of our own, in which were a serjeant and about eight of our men, but owing to the gallant efforts of Captain Radford, another officer and a few men, who repeatedly went down among the fumes, all the men were rescued, though the rescuers suffered considerably.

Captain Charles Douglas Roo, 1st/4th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource near the Bois de Biez on 2nd and 4th July, 1915, when reconnoitring the enemy's positions by day. He collected information of great value, and, on one occasion, though opposed by overwhelming numbers, he kept them at bay by bombs and rifle fire, and brought back his party with only one wounded after inflicting considerable loss on the enemy.

Captain James Morison Scott, 7th Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on many occasions. He was the only officer left with his Battalion at the end of the day on 24th May, 1915, near Wieltje, where his conduct, when in charge of machine guns, was marked by the highest ability and bravery.

Captain Charles Herbert Mansfield Sturges, 1st Siege Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and general good work as an observing officer throughout the campaign, notably during the attack on Givenchy on March 19th, 1915, the attack at the Rue du Bois on May 9th, and during attacks on May 15th and 16th. During these last attacks he was shelled out of two houses in succession, but proceeded to a third, where, although blown down the ladder by the force of a shell, he still continued to observe and correct the fire of his battery.

Captain Austin Bradford Woodgate, 3rd Battalion, The King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment) (attached 1st Battalion).

For conspicuous gallantry on 24th May, 1915, when, after the Germans had captured the trenches held by the Battalion on his right, he with another officer and three men held up the enemy from working along the trench. Although the enemy was in force and with an unlimited supply of hand grenades, he not only held them up, but succeeded under heavy shell fire in capturing two traverses and a German flag which had been put up to mark their position.

Captain Woodgate also rendered invaluable service throughout the winter, especially during the underground fight in the mine gallery at Le Touquet.

MILITARY CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 3rd July, 1915.)

His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officer in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Force :—

Captain Ralph Leycester McCall, 2nd Battalion, The Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders.

At Hooge, on the 11th May, 1915, during a violent attack, his company and the company on his right were forced to evacuate their trenches owing to heavy shelling and gas.

Captain McCall, together with a junior Officer, rallied the men and made three counter attacks driving the enemy out of the trenches at the point of the bayonet. He then, although wounded, successfully repulsed all further attacks.

During this period his left flank was entirely unprotected.

Captain Stewart Grahame Menzies, D.S.O., 2nd Life Guards.

Near Ypres, on 13th May, 1915, after his Commanding Officer had been wounded, displayed conspicuous ability, coolness and resource in controlling the action of his regiment and in rallying the men.

Captain Guy Franklin Reynolds, 9th (Queen's Royal) Lancers.

For splendid work on May 24th, 1915, near Hooge. When the Headquarters of the 9th Lancers were gassed he constantly brought reports from the trenches under very heavy fire, and helped to reorganise the defence of the left section. Also when the enemy attempted to enter Louave Wood he was invaluable in helping to reorganise the defence.

He set the finest possible example of calmness, coolness and courage, although suffering from gas and twice slightly wounded.

Captain Edward Archibald Ruggles Brise, Essex Yeomanry, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability near Ypres on 13th May, 1915, when he held a position gained in a counter-attack, although entirely isolated, until ordered to withdraw at night.

He had only 50 men under his command.

Captain Charles Joseph Leicester Stanhope, 15th (The King's) Hussars.

For gallant conduct and skilful handling of his squadron near Hooge on 24th May, 1915, with most valuable results. His squadron having been badly gassed he took forward the remnants, together with stragglers he collected, and, on his own initiative, under very heavy shell fire, reinforced the front line.

He remained in action all day, and when the line on his left gave way he doubled back his flank with great skill and continued with the utmost gallantry to hold the position.

Lieutenant Vyvian Augustine Cairns Clery, 4th Signal Company, Royal Engineers.

For great gallantry in personally superintending the laying of the telephone lines every night over a large area of country which was continually shelled. It was due to his personal exertions and example during the period of 27th April to 3rd May, 1915, that the communications with the Brigade were kept up so well.

Lieutenant Leslie Stuart Clinton, 23rd (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment Territorial Force.

At Givenchy, on 25th and 26th May, 1915, showed extreme gallantry in working his machine guns under very heavy fire in the captured German trench. After being wounded in the leg he returned to the trench after the wound had been dressed, and carried out his gun himself when it was ordered to be withdrawn. In doing this he was again wounded.

Lieutenant Alexander Edward Drysdale, 47 Sikhs, Indian Army.

Near Ypres, on 26th April, 1915, showed conspicuous gallantry in the attack. When all senior Officers became casualties he continued to lead the regiment to within seventy yards of the enemy's trenches, and there held on. His conduct throughout the day and night was marked by great coolness and resource.

Lieutenant James Archibald Garton, North Somerset Yeomanry, Territorial Force.

Near Ypres, on 13th May, 1915, showed great coolness and daring. Held his position throughout the day notwithstanding that his trenches had been blown in, and inspired all ranks by his behaviour. On 24th and 25th May, 1915, at Ypres, he displayed conspicuous gallantry in ministering to the wounded under fire. He traversed the ground many times while under heavy shell and rifle fire, and dressed the wounded in the open. On the night of the 25th May he went up to a wood near Bellegarde Farm and searched for wounded men close up to the German trenches.

In every action his gallantry has been conspicuous.

Lieutenant George Stuart Henderson, 1st Battalion, The Manchester Regiment.

Near Ypres on 26th April, 1915, after his Company Commander had been wounded, he led his company up to within 70 yards of the enemy's trenches with great gallantry and determination, and held on through several hours of daylight, and finally established himself there. Throughout the operations he set a fine example, after most of the senior Officers had become casualties.

Lieutenant William Murray Hutchison, 3rd (attached 1st) Battalion, The King's (Liverpool Regiment).

During the action on 16th May, 1915, near Rue du Bois, at 3 p.m., in response to calls for ammunition, he led a party of men across the open under a very heavy machine gun fire, and succeeded in getting through with most of his men. The last part of the journey had to be done on hands and knees.

On the 18th May he organised and conducted an attack and led the bombing party, and by his work forced the surrender of 200 Germans and caused 200 more to retreat, leaving their arms and equipment.

Lieutenant Noel Mackintosh Stuart Irwin, 2nd Battalion, The Essex Regiment.

On 2nd May, 1915, east of Ypres, when in reserve trenches with his company, seeing that the men in the front trenches were overcome by gas and were retiring, with great initiative and courage and under heavy fire, he at once advanced with his company and seized the front trenches before the Germans could occupy them, and drove back the enemy's attack.

On 13th May in the counter-attack he handled his company with great skill and determination.

Lieutenant William Spurrett Fielding Johnson, Leicestershire Yeomanry, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 13th May, 1915. Was with Major Martin, and continued the action until the squadron was reduced to 13 men. Afterwards displayed great coolness in withdrawing to a flank and joining a cavalry brigade.

Lieutenant Kenneth Douglas Lorne Maclaine of Lochbuie, 15th (The King's) Hussars (Special Reserve).

Near Ypres, for good work in command of his squadron under trying circumstances on 13th May, 1915. For gallant and skilful leading of a patrol on 14th May, by which he gained information of great value. He volunteered to lead this patrol, and pushed forward by day, a mile in front of our line, and returned with a good report as to the actual line then held by the enemy.

For coolness, determination and skill in handling his squadron under difficult circumstances near Hooge on 24th May, 1915. He had been ordered up with his squadron to reinforce the left of another cavalry regiment, when the line the north of the Menin Road gave way and the situation became critical. Lieutenant Maclaine showed great skill in taking up a new position facing north and west to meet the new situation, and maintained his position under most critical circumstances until relieved at 2.15 the next morning.

His action contributed greatly towards maintaining intact the line south of the road.

Temporary Lieutenant John Hart McNichol, M.B., Royal Army Medical Corps.

On the 24th and 25th May, 1915, at Ypres, with untiring energy and gallantry attended to wounded men under heavy rifle and shell fire, saving the lives of many men.

Lieutenant Desbrisay Blundell Mein, 55th Coke's Rifles (Frontier Force), Indian Army.

Near Ypres, during operations from 24th April to 4th May, 1915, he displayed the greatest ability and coolness in bringing up rations and ammunition for the regiment under heavy shell fire. When only two Officers were left with the regiment he came up from behind and took part in the second attack on the 27th May.

He divided his time between assisting in the front line, where he was of the greatest help, and going back through Ypres under heavy shell fire to arrange for rations, &c.

Lieutenant Austin Timaeus Miller, 1st Battalion, The Sherwood Foresters Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment).

When, owing to high explosive shells falling for fourteen hours amongst the battalion, a retirement began, he immediately ran along the line under heavy fire, stopped the retirement, and by his coolness and personal example saved the situation.

Lieutenant Herbert Francis Otway, The Prince of Wales's Leinster Regiment (Royal Canadians), attached Army Cyclist Corps.

During the recent fighting to the east of Ypres in April and May, 1915, he showed conspicuous ability in making important reconnaissances under heavy shell fire. His reconnaissances were of the greatest value to the Divisional Commander at Potijze, and were always carried out at considerable risk.

Lieutenant Orfeur Kilvington Parker, 2nd Battalion, The Northamptonshire Regiment.

On 9th May, 1915, during the operations near Rouges Bancs, with conspicuous gallantry he led his company to the assault under an extremely heavy enfilade fire, and when nearly all his company had become casualties he collected 20 men and seized a portion of the enemy's trench and held it for over three hours. He was driven out by the enemy and at once occupied a shell crater just outside the enemy's parapet, although heavily bombed, and held out till dark, when he got back with five men. Previous to the commencement of operations he carried out a daring reconnaissance across the line of attack, and rendered a very accurate and useful report.

Lieutenant Gerald Waldon Browne Tarleton, 2nd Battalion, The Royal Dublin Fusiliers.

On the 24th May, 1915, near Shell Trap Farm, north of Wieltje, his company was in the advanced trenches. Two orderlies who had been sent back to Battalion Headquarters with a message were wounded and unable to get through. Lieutenant Tarleton had also been wounded and was suffering from the effects of gas, but volunteered to take back the message, and, as he was not fit to command his platoon owing to his wounds, his Company Commander allowed him to try. He managed to crawl back, though he was hit again on the way, and on arrival he was unable to speak owing to his wounds and exhaustion, but managed to deliver his message in writing.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Charles William Trevelyan 5th (City of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (London Rifle Brigade), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 13th May, 1915, when in charge of a trench to the east of Ypres.

The troops on his right having been compelled to fall back owing to the destruction of their trench, Lieutenant Trevelyan with great skill reorganised the defence of his position and, although unsupported, succeeded in maintaining the safety of our line at a very critical time.

Lieutenant Nigel Kennedy Worthington, 3rd (Prince of Wales's) Dragoon Guards (Special Reserve).

Near Ypres, on the 12th May, 1915, showed great coolness and daring. He took over a new line of trenches just before dark, and to get round the line in daylight he had to cross several open and fire-swept zones. On 13th May, at great risk, he came back several times to report.

Second Lieutenant James Ball, 3rd Battalion, The Royal Fusiliers (City of London Regiment).

Did specially good work on 25th April, 1915, near Ypres, in holding on to the left trench, and occupying a portion of the trenches evacuated by other troops. He was the only Officer left alive in his trench, and took effective command of the situation.

Second Lieutenant Alfred Cyril Curtis, Unattached List, Indian Army (attached 1st Battalion, The Bedfordshire Regiment).

Between 1st and 7th May, 1915, was in the trenches near "Hill 60," and was twice subjected to attacks by asphyxiating gas. After his senior Officer was wounded he took charge of the trenches and, in spite of sickness, held on to No. 47 trench, though the enemy got round his right flank and enfiladed him. He withstood all efforts of the enemy to work down the trench and bomb the garrison out, and organized frequent counter-attacks with hand grenades. No. 47 trench was also subjected to artillery fire from various directions, which caused considerable loss, and during the 6th May was cut off from the remainder of the line and unable to obtain rations or water. The casualties in this trench were very heavy, and the strain intense.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) William Edward Dickson, 1st London Divisional Train (attached 28th) Army Service Corps, Territorial Force.

Displayed gallantry in taking up a load of explosives to Zonnebeke under a very heavy shell fire on the night of 25th-26th April, 1915, within 1,200 yards of the fire trenches.

Second Lieutenant Bernard Gibbs, 6th (attached 1st) Battalion, The Rifle Brigade (The Prince Consort's Own).

For the cool and capable way in which he commanded the Canadian Dressing Station and outbuildings while the Germans sapped to within 40 yards of it. He opened enfilade fire on a considerable force attacking his left, bringing them to a standstill. Later he ran into the open and threw hand grenades at the German sapping party, compelling them to retire.

Second Lieutenant William Edmund Gray, 2nd Battalion, The Rifle Brigade (The Prince Consort's Own).

For leading reinforcements forward to the captured trench on 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs under heavy flanking rifle and machine gun fire. Only about 25 per cent. of his party reached their destination, the remainder being killed or wounded.

He was of the greatest assistance to his Commanding Officer in making good the captured position, using a captured German machine gun with great effect.

This Officer was the last to retire when the enemy's trench had to be abandoned, and he kept up a continuous machine gun fire until the enemy were within a few yards from the position.

Second Lieutenant Henry Porter Wolseley Hutson, 59th Field Company, Royal Engineers.

At Ypres, on May 8th, 1915, for coolness and gallantry in reconnoitring a barricade across our fire trench (No. 40), and laying and firing a charge against it. The enemy were only 20 yards away behind a second barricade, and this Officer was knocked down by a German bomb while assisting to lay the charge, but continued working. He has shown coolness under fire, and carried out dangerous work on many occasions during the winter trench warfare.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Arthur Ladenburg, Intelligence Corps.

Has carried out a series of reconnaissances of a highly dangerous nature, and succeeded in obtaining valuable information. On the night of 16th-17th June, 1915, and on several previous occasions he crawled out to the German wire entanglements in the neighbourhood of Touquet to listen to the enemy's conversation in order to locate the districts from which the various Units were drawn. On these occasions he has had to lie out the greater part of the night, often under heavy fire.

Second Lieutenant Roger C. Leach, Reserve of Officers, attached 1st Battalion, The King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment).

On the 24th May, 1915, when the enemy captured the trenches of the regiment on the right of the Royal Lancaster Regiment, near Shell Trap Farm, north of Wieltje, it was entirely due to the individual efforts of Second Lieutenant Leach and a few men that the enemy were prevented from working along their trench, and so making the retention of the remainder of the position possible. The position was a very difficult one, the enemy were in force, they appeared to have an unlimited supply of hand grenades, and this part of the trench was being heavily shelled and the parapet was breached in several places, exposing anyone passing to hostile fire from the German trench in front. In spite of these difficulties and the inevitable delay in collecting sufficient hand grenades, Second Lieutenant Leach, his Captain, and a few men succeeded in not only stopping the Germans, but in recapturing two traverses and capturing a German flag, which they had put up to mark their position.

Second Lieutenant Leach fought till midnight, when he was badly wounded in the legs by a hand grenade.

This Officer rendered invaluable service throughout the winter, especially during the underground fight in the mine gallery at Le Touquet.

Second Lieutenant Henry Grove Morton Mansel-Pleydell, 3rd (attached 1st) Battalion, The Dorsetshire Regiment.

Showed gallantry and ability on "Hill 60," near Ypres, on 5th May, 1915. Although wounded early in the attack, he commanded his platoon in the trenches (which had been vacated by the Unit holding them in the morning) with great skill and coolness, and later took charge of the whole of his company after his Captain had been wounded.

It was largely due to him that a considerable length of trench, which had been occupied by the enemy, was gradually regained.

Second Lieutenant John Millar, 1st Battalion, The Black Watch (Royal Highlanders).

At Rue du Bois, on 9th May, 1915, he established flag communication under intense fire with our signallers on the German parapet, and did much gallant and invaluable work. His previous reconnaissances by night close to the German trenches were of the greatest assistance.

On the 8th and 9th May he loosened all the enemy's wire in front of our trench.

Second Lieutenant John Neill, 1st Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders).

Has done continuous good work since 19th December, 1914, and especially on the 11th May, 1915, near Hooge, when his coolness and skill in the handling of his men were most marked. He also showed great gallantry in leading a counter-attack, in the course of which he was severely wounded. He collected and took forward about 100 men who were falling back in some disorder, at a very critical moment.

Second Lieutenant Wilfred Austin Salt, Special Reserve, attached 1st Battalion, The East Lancashire Regiment.

East of Ypres, on 9th May, 1915, he held his breastwork against bomb throwers in a very gallant way. Suddenly he found he was being enfiladed from Shell Trap Farm, into which the Germans were penetrating; he threw back half his men to face the farm, and over a traverse he fired at the enemy at the close range of 30 yards. He shot one German, and was then wounded in the head and had two other bullet holes through his cap. A German officer shouted to him to surrender, but for answer he shot him through the head.

Second Lieutenant Salt continued to command his post in spite of his wound until a lull in the attack, when he was ordered by his senior to hand over his command and go to the dressing station.

Second Lieutenant Henry Morrant Stanford, 32nd Battery Royal Field Artillery.

For consistently gallant conduct both at Neuve Chapelle and again, on 9th May, 1915, during operations near Rouges Bancs, in keeping up communication by mending telephone wires under heavy fire. He has done excellent work as Observing Officer for the last six months, and the accuracy of the wire-cutting by the 32nd Battery, Royal Field Artillery, on 9th May, was due to his precise observations.

Second Lieutenant William Watson, 2nd Battalion, The Northumberland Fusiliers.

At Ypres on 8th May, 1915. The Captain commanding "A" Company, 2nd Northumberland Fusiliers, was killed, and the whole of No. 4 Platoon killed or wounded, Second Lieutenant Watson, with the three remaining platoons of the company, continued to hold the trench, in spite of very heavy fire, both frontal and enfilade. Owing to the other three companies of the battalion being either casualties or captured, he retired his three platoons to the reserve line, but finding no room there returned to his original trench, and held it until relieved the following morning.

Assistant Surgeon Edwin Bunkall Messinier, Indian Subordinate Medical Department.

For consistent good work, gallant conduct and devotion to duty, when "X" Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, was in action on 9th and 10th May, 1915. He went under shell fire to assist the wounded and, although twice wounded continued to perform his duties after having his wounds dressed.,

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 24th July, 1915.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the undermentioned rewards for gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Awarded the Military Cross.

Captain Herbert Davies, 1st/8th Battalion, The Royal Warwickshire Regiment, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on many occasions when on patrol duty in front of the trenches, notably on the night of 20th-21st June, 1915, when he carried out a very daring reconnaissance close to the River Douve. From his knowledge of German he obtained very valuable information from the enemy's conversation after passing over ground lit by flares and constantly swept by machine-gun fire.

Lieutenant Arthur Brooks Close-Brooks, 3rd Battalion, The Manchester Regiment (attached 2nd Battalion).

For conspicuous gallantry at Ypres on 10th June, 1915, in attempting to rescue a Non-commissioned Officer belonging to his regiment. The Non-commissioned Officer was lying 35 yards in front of the enemy's trench, but Lieutenant Close-Brooks crawled out to him in broad daylight. When he found that he was already dead he attached a cord to his body, which was recovered.

Lieutenant Armar Valentine Lowry Corry, 2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability in the attack at Rue du Bois on 16th May, 1915. When his Company Commander was killed and all the other Officers wounded he reorganised and commanded the Company with great coolness. He has also done good work with patrols near Givenchy.

Lieutenant Thomas Barrie Erskine, 4th Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders), attached 1st Battalion, The Gordon Highlanders.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability. Between 12th and 20th May, 1915, he obtained definite information of the enemy's dispositions near "Hill 60" by personal reconnaissance by day and night, and, after locating the enemy's nearest occupied trench from a distance of 10 to 20 yards, he checked their activities by incessantly bombing their working parties. His work was marked by equal boldness and judgment.

He also has shown since conspicuous energy and skill in the construction of defences in Hooge Village.

Lieutenant William Kelsey Fry, Royal Army Medical Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Festubert between 16th and 18th May, 1915, while carrying out his work under heavy fire. He was himself wounded while attending to others.

Lieutenant Henry Malkin Hance, Indian Army, Reserve of Officers, attached 176th (Mining) Company, Royal Engineers.

For excellent work and great determination in the preparation of a mine which was successfully sprung at Duck's Bill (near Givenchy) on 15th June, 1915. The success of the mine was largely due to Lieutenant Hance's personal efforts and his fine example under very difficult circumstances.

Lieutenant Maurice Luby, 2nd Field Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous ability and coolness between 26th April and 6th May, 1915, while superintending by night the construction of an advanced trench within from 100 to 200 yards of the enemy. His working party was constantly subjected to sniping, and occasionally to machine gun fire, and it was mainly owing to his coolness and careful instructions that it was possible to complete the work.

Lieutenant Eric Grant Miles, The King's Own Scottish Borderers (attached 5th Signal Company, Royal Engineers).

For conspicuous gallantry. During a critical period in the attack on "Hill 60" and neighbouring trenches on May 1st, 1915, he succeeded in mending the telephone wire along the railway cutting under such heavy shell fire that messengers were unable to get through.

Lieutenant Denys Max Thomson Morland, 3rd London Field Company, Royal Engineers, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on 25 May, 1915, at Givenchy, when he accompanied a London battalion in an assault on the German trenches, and, finding the entrance of a mine, explored it alone, making prisoners of 18 Germans who were hiding in it. Throughout the night he displayed great energy and bravery in endeavouring to consolidate the newly-won position.

Lieutenant David James Sheires Stephen, M.D., Royal Army Medical Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in attending to the wounded under heavy shell fire on several occasions, notably on the night of 23rd April and on the 8th May, 1915.

He has usually performed his gallant work single-handed, and by his cheerfulness and pluck has encouraged all around him.

Lieutenant Lord Alistair St. Clair Sutherland-Leveson-Gower, Royal Horse Guards.

For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 13th May, 1915, when he led up his men to the enemy's trench, and, although wounded, continued to direct their fire and movements.

Lieutenant Oscar Taunton, 1st East Lancashire Field Company, Royal Engineers, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on June 4th, 1915, during operations S. of Krithia, Dardanelles, when he held back the enemy from advancing along a trench on the left flank, which was much exposed. By means of bombs and hand grenades he personally held his position for over two hours. He picked up several of the enemy's bombs and threw them back before they exploded.

Second Lieutenant John Hugh Vaudrey Barker-Mill, 1st Battalion The Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry on 16th June, 15, at Hooge, when, after leading an assault with great dash, he succeeded in taking some 300 yards of the enemy's trench, capturing many prisoners and two machine guns. Although wounded he remained with his company consolidating the position gained.

Second Lieutenant Edward William Bryan, 1st Battalion, The Welsh Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 7th and 8th of May, 1915. His company dug a trench during the night of the 7th, and held it all next day under such heavy shell that the trench became obliterated, and two machine guns were buried. He not only kept his company in hand and cheerful, but rendered assistance to another regiment, and on being relieved, refused to quit his position till the machine guns, one of which was 12 feet underground, were dug out. This work was done under heavy fire.

Second Lieutenant Eric Krabbe Colbourne, 3rd Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment) (attached 1st Battalion).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Cuinchy on the early morning of 22nd June, 1915. The Germans, following a gas attack, exploded a mine in front of one of our own, in which was a sergeant and about eight of our men, but, owing to the gallant efforts of Second Lieutenant Colbourne, another officer and a few men, who repeatedly went down among the fumes, all the men were rescued, although the rescuers suffered considerably.

Second Lieutenant Herbert Cutbush, 47th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous devotion to duty at Givenchy on 24th and 25th May, 1915, when our front trenches were heavily shelled and many casualties had occurred. On both days he rendered great assistance in rallying the infantry, in re-establishing the front line of trenches, and in tending and getting away the wounded.

Second Lieutenant Carlton Griffith Davies, 24th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's) Territorial Force.

For excellent work on 25th and 26th May, 1915, at Givenchy, in leading bombers and himself throwing bombs up a trench, thereby keeping the enemy's bombers at bay at a critical moment. Subsequently he took a leading part in capturing 20 Germans in a mine.

Second Lieutenant Leonard Alsager Elgood, 1st/8th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, The Black Watch (Royal Highlanders) Territorial Force.

For excellent work when in charge of a working party clearing away wire previous to the attack on May 9th, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. For four nights his party worked in spite of machine gun and rifle fire, and in the last night continued to work all night although suffering heavy casualties.

Second Lieutenant Oliver Dwight Filley, Royal Flying Corps (Special Reserve).

For conspicuous gallantry on July 6th, 1915, when he and his observer were co-operating with our artillery. On two occasions, although they were not in a special fighting machine, they attacked German aeroplanes and, after driving them away, resumed their artillery work. Finally two hostile aeroplanes came up simultaneously, and, although they had only five rounds of ammunition left, they at once proceeded to attack. In this encounter the observer was killed in the act of firing, and the engine damaged, but Second Lieutenant Filley landed safely in our lines.

Second Lieutenant Richard Percival Gatehouse, 24th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill as forward observing officer in the attack on Bellewaarde trenches on 16th June, 1915. He succeeded at great personal risk in obtaining and getting back valuable information to his battery and to the infantry battalion with which he was working. When his wires were cut and his signallers wounded or away with messages, he himself personally took back information, thus enabling fire to be brought on objectives as they presented themselves.

Second Lieutenant Geoffrey Malcolm Gathorne-Hardy, 1st/4th Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment), Territorial Force.

For excellent reconnaissance work along the German front, whereby much very valuable information has been obtained, notably on 18th June, 1915, when, with a lance-corporal, he crawled out by day and brought back most useful information regarding the German lines.

Second Lieutenant Edward Longsdon Jerwood, 1st Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack on the enemy's trenches south of Richebourg L'Avoue on the night of May 15th, 1915, when in charge of machine guns. He established a machine gun in position in the second captured German trench under rifle and machine gun fire, and also recovered a machine gun that had been lost between the first and second German trenches.

On 17th May he gallantly led a section which established two machine guns in the firing line under shell fire, and set a fine example to the men under his command.

Second Lieutenant Charles Claude Edmonstoune Manson, Indian Army, Reserve of Officers, attached 1st-4th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on reconnaissance duty by day near Bois de Bioz, when assistant to another Officer on 2nd and 4th July, 1915. By his prompt action on one occasion he enabled his patrol to retire without loss after acquiring very valuable information.

Second Lieutenant Lawrence William McArthur, Honourable Artillery Company, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on June 16th, 1915, at Hooge. When our troops were forced to retire from the 3rd line of German trenches he rallied part of the retiring troops and reoccupied and held the vacated trench under heavy fire until he was himself forced later to withdraw owing to retirements on his flanks. He was severely wounded on this occasion.

Second Lieutenant Hillgrove McCormick, 1st Battalion, The Prince of Wales's Leinster Regiment (Royal Canadians) (formerly Captain 3rd Battalion).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. During the second battle of Ypres, under heavy fire, and when himself suffering from the effects of gas, he personally assisted in the removal of the wounded, and materially helped to repulse an attack by moving single-handed his machine gun from a damaged emplacement and mounting it elsewhere.

Also at Le Touquet, during the nights of 30th and 31st May, 1915, he made a gallant and very useful reconnaissance in front of our trenches.

Second Lieutenant John Brown Savage, 1st Battalion, The Royal Welsh Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry at Festubert, on 16 May, 1915, when, as Acting Adjutant of his battalion, he displayed the greatest bravery in cheering his men forward although severely wounded near the German parapet. At Neuve Chapelle also he displayed marked ability and courage.

Second Lieutenant Hugh Urquhart Scrutton, 1st Battalion, The Northumberland Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Hooge on 16th June, 1915. He led his platoon with great dash under heavy fire against the enemy's line, and later, though wounded in the head, continued to direct the work of a bombing party. Although again wounded in the head, knocked down and rendered deaf, he returned to his trench after his wounds had been bound up, and remained at his post till dark.

Second Lieutenant Carleton Stuart Searle, Unattd. List, Indian Army, attached 1st Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment.)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on several occasions, notably on the night of 15th May, 1915, near Richebourg l'Avoué, when, although wounded, he took over command of his company and remained at his post all night and all the next day consolidating a captured trench. He has also displayed great coolness and skill in handling patrols, especially at Cuinchy on the night of 27th April.

Second Lieutenant Francis Arthur Sutton, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations west of Krithia, Dardanelles, on 22nd May, 1915, when attached to the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers. During a counter-attack, which he led, he picked up and threw back into the enemy's trenches, at great personal risk, a number of bombs, thereby probably saving many lives. He threw six bombs, and the seventh exploded in his hand.

Second Lieutenant Alfred Marshall Thom, 1st Battalion, The Gordon Highlanders.

For excellent reconnaissance work on many occasions, notably between May 12th and 20th, 1915, north of "Hill 60," between May 26th and June 8th, in front of Hooge, and also between 14th and 16th June, near Hooge. He has since been severely wounded

Second Lieutenant Thomas Wallace, 3rd Battalion, The Border Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of June 10th-11th, during operations S.W. of Krithia, Dardanelles, when he volunteered to lead a party to clear the enemy out of a trench in which they were constructing a sap. He advanced under heavy fire, and rushed the trench at the head of his men, bayoneting some and driving the remainder away. He afterwards led his men down a communication trench, showing great coolness, and remained there until the enemy evacuated it. The success of this enterprise was mainly due to his personal bravery and gallant leading.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Nevile West, 2nd Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment.)

For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. When the leading line of his battalion was unable to advance, all the Officers having been shot, he rushed forward and attempted to lead the men on. He was almost immediately shot down, but picking himself up, he went forward again till he was hit a second time.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Ernest Hamilton Whitfeld, 2nd Battalion, The Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry on 16th May, 1915, at Richebourg L'Avoue, when, with a small party, he entered the German trenches, and, after being wounded, attacked a detachment still working a machine gun, killing seven men, taking three prisoners, and capturing the gun.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD.

VICTORIA CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 23rd August, 1915.)

War Office,
23rd August, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officers and Non-commissioned Officers in recognition of their most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Captain John Fitzhardinge Paul Butler, The King's Royal Rifle Corps, attached Pioneer Company, Gold Coast Regiment, West African Frontier Force.
For most conspicuous bravery in the Cameroons, West Africa.

On 17th November, 1914, with a party of 13 men, he went into the thick bush and at once attacked the enemy, in strength about 100, including several Europeans, defeated them, and captured their machine-gun and many loads of ammunition.

On 27th December, 1914, when on patrol duty, with a few men, he swam the Ekam River, which was held by the enemy, alone and in the face of a brisk fire, completed his reconnaissance on the further bank, and returned in safety. Two of his men were wounded while he was actually in the water.

Captain Charles Calveley Foss, D.S.O., 2nd Battalion, The Bedfordshire Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915.

After the enemy had captured a part of one of our trenches, and our counter-attack made with one Officer and 20 men having failed (all but two of the party being killed or wounded in the attempt), Captain Foss, on his own initiative, dashed forward with eight men, under heavy fire, attacked the enemy with bombs, and captured the position, including the 52 Germans occupying it.

The capture of this position from the enemy was of the greatest importance, and the utmost bravery was displayed in essaying the task with so very few men.

Captain John Aldan Liddell, 3rd Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders), and Royal Flying Corps.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty on 31st July, 1915.

When on a flying reconnaissance over Ostend-Bruges-Ghent he was severely wounded (his right thigh being broken), which caused momentary unconsciousness, but by a great effort he recovered partial control after his machine had dropped nearly 3,000 feet, and notwithstanding his collapsed state succeeded, although continually fired at, in completing his course, and brought the aeroplane into our lines—half an hour after he had been wounded.

The difficulties experienced by this Officer in saving his machine, and the life of his observer, cannot be readily expressed, but as the control wheel and throttle control were smashed, and also one of the under-carriage struts, it would seem incredible that he could have accomplished his task.

Lieutenant Frederick William Campbell 1st Canadian Battalion.

For most conspicuous bravery on 15th June, 1915, during the action at Givenchy.

Lieutenant Campbell took two machine-guns over the parapet, arrived at the German first line with one gun, and maintained his position there, under very heavy rifle, machine-gun, and bomb fire, notwithstanding the fact that almost the whole of his detachment had then been killed or wounded. When our supply of bombs had become exhausted, this Officer advanced his gun still further to an exposed position, and, by firing about 1,000 rounds, succeeded in holding back the enemy's counter-attack.

This very gallant Officer was subsequently wounded, and has since died.

No. 8980 Corporal William Cosgrove, 1st Battalion, The Royal Munster Fusiliers.

For most conspicuous bravery in the leading of his section with great dash during our attack from the beach to the east of Cape Helles, on the Turkish positions, on 26th April, 1915.

Corporal Cosgrove on this occasion pulled down the posts of the enemy's high wire entanglements single-handed, notwithstanding a terrific fire from both front and flanks, thereby greatly contributing to the successful clearing of the heights.

No. 168 Acting Corporal Issy Smith, 1st Battalion, The Manchester Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery on 26th April, 1915, near Ypres, when he left his Company on his own initiative and went well forward towards the enemy's position to assist a severely wounded man, whom he carried a distance of 250 yards into safety, whilst exposed the whole time to heavy machine-gun and rifle fire.

Subsequently Corporal Smith displayed great gallantry, when the casualties were very heavy, in voluntarily assisting to bring in many more wounded men throughout the day, and attending to them with the greatest devotion to duty regardless of personal risk.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 24th August, 1915).

* * * * * *

War Office,
24th August, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officers, Non-commissioned Officer and man, in recognition of their most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty in the field :—

Captain Richard Raymond Willis, 1st Battalion, The Lancashire Fusiliers.

No. 1293 Serjeant Alfred Richards, 1st Battalion, The Lancashire Fusiliers.

No. 1809 Private William Kencally. 1st Battalion, The Lancashire Fusiliers.

On the 25th April, 1915, three Companies and the Headquarters of the 1st Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers, in effecting a landing on the Gallipoli Peninsula to the West of Cape Helles, were met by a very deadly fire from hidden machine guns which caused a great number of casualties. The survivors, however, rushed up to and cut the wire entanglements, notwithstanding the terrific fire from the enemy, and, after overcoming supreme difficulties, the cliffs were gained and the position maintained.

Amongst the many very gallant officers and men engaged in this most hazardous undertaking, Captain Willis, Serjeant Richards and Private Keneally have been selected by their comrades as having performed the most signal acts of bravery and devotion to duty.

Captain Lanoe George Hawker, D.S.O., Royal Engineers, and Royal Flying Corps.

For most conspicuous bravery and very great ability on 25th July, 1915.

When flying alone he attacked three German aeroplanes in succession. The first managed eventually to escape, the second was driven to ground damaged, and the third, which he attacked at a height of about 10,000 feet, was driven to earth in our lines, the pilot and observer being killed.

The personal bravery shown by this Officer was of the very highest order, as the enemy's aircraft were armed with machine guns, and all carried a passenger as well as the pilot.

Major Manners Ralph Willmot Nightingale, 1st Battalion, 5th Gúrkha Rifles (Frontier Force).

For most conspicuous gallantry on 4th June, 1915, during operations in the neighbourhood of Krithia, Dardanelles, in leading an attack up a difficult spur after he had been wounded. He reached the crest and was again wounded, but coming back a few yards rallied his men and again led them on. He was then wounded a third time, but still endeavoured to advance until he fainted.

Capt. Frank Berkeley Abbott, 1st Battalion, 6th Gúrkha Rifles.

For gallant and distinguished conduct on 23th and 29th June, 1915, during operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

He showed great skill in organising bombing attacks which resulted in regaining a portion of a trench which had been captured by the enemy. Advancing single handed, he cleared the enemy out of one-third of the trench. He was wounded for the third time during the war when leading a bayonet charge after the bombs were exhausted.

He showed exceptionally fine leadership, dash and resource.

Captain Stanley John Anderson, 5th Canadian Infantry Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry at Festubert on 20th May, 1915, when he refused to go to the ambulance after being wounded until his tour of duty was completed.

Captain Anderson was again wounded in the head on 24th May, but remained the whole day and night gallantly leading his men in the attacks.

Captain Hugh Griffith Coke Fowler, 2nd Battalion, The South Wales Borderers.

For great gallantry on the 18th and 19th June, 1915, during operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula. In a counter-attack on a Turkish trench he led the party which eventually cleared it. This Officer himself threw some 30 bombs, some of which were enemy bombs which he picked up and threw back at great personal risk.

Captain Russell Mortimer Luckock, The King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment).

For gallantry during the fighting at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, when he performed excellent work as a Brigade Major, showing marked ability as a Staff Officer.

Captain Frank Morison, 16th Canadian Infantry Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 20th May, 1915, when he commanded the leading company in the attack on the orchard at La Quinque Rue.

Captain Morison captured the enemy's position, which was of primary importance, under heavy shrapnel, rifle and machine gun fire.

Captain John Foster Paton Nash, 5th Canadian Infantry Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry throughout the action at Festubert, 22nd-24th May, 1915. He repaired the telephone wires personally under very heavy fire.

Captain Nash was again brought to notice for excellent work performed under fire at Fleurbaix and at Gravelstafen.

Captain Creswell Duffield Rawson, Royal Artillery, 21st Kohat Mountain Battery (Frontier Force), Indian Army.

For gallant conduct and distinguished service on 14th May, 1915, during operations in the neighbourhood of Gaba Tepe, Dardanelles. Having discovered that the enemy had constructed an emplacement enfilading an important position, he constructed a position for one gun in the firing-line facing the enemy's gun at a range of 650 yards. He then arranged with neighbouring Field Artillery to occupy the attention of other enemy guns whilst he knocked down the parapet in front of his own gun, and engaged the enemy by direct fire and without cover, and succeeded in destroying the new emplacement he had observed. He distinguished himself by unceasing good work from 26th April to 26th June, on which latter day he was wounded.

Captain Denis George Jocelyn Ryan, 1st Battalion, 6th Gúrkha Rifles.

On the 13th May, 1915, during operations near Krithia, Dardanelles, for carrying out a daring and well executed reconnaissance of the enemy's position. The success of the subsequent attack leading to the capture of the Turkish position was due in a great measure to this Officer's work. He was again brought to notice for gallant work on the 28th and 29th June.

Captain Stanley Alwyn Smith, No. 3 Field Ambulance, Canadian Army Medical Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Festubert on the night of 20th May, 1915.

Captain Smith, with a party of eight men, went out voluntarily to remove the wounded from an orchard whilst under heavy fire, and eventually succeeded in bringing all into safety. Four of the eight men of the rescue party were wounded, and two of these have since died.

Captain (temporary Major) George Butler Stoney (Egyptian Army), 1st Battalion, The King's Own Scot.ish Borderers.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during operations south-west of Krithia, Dardanelles, from the 4th to 7th June, 1915. He showed great coolness and good leading, holding together in a most praiseworthy manner the Battalion, which had suffered greatly. He had been previously brought to notice for gallant conduct during the operations up to May 5th.

Captain John Herbert Thom, Royal Artillery, 21st Kohat Mountain Battery (Frontier Force), Indian Army.

For exceptionally gallant conduct on 21st June, 1915, near Gaba Tepe, Dardanelles. He engaged two of the enemy's guns at a range of 450 yards with one 10 pr. B.L. gun, which he had concealed in a tunnelled emplacement in the firing line parapet, and put them out of action. During this duel, which lasted about an hour, he was knocked down by a high explosive shell from other guns. Recovering, he continued to direct the fire of his gun, and, having won the fight, withdrew it undamaged and without casualty.

Again, on 26th June, he was in an observation station with another Officer and gunner. Both Officers were wounded and the gunner killed by a shell, but Capt. Thom remained at duty until the following day, when a large piece of metal was removed from his head.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability when organising and leading the assault on the enemy's trenches south of Pilkem, on 6th July, 1915. He carried out his duties with great bravery and efficiency until he was wounded.

MILITARY CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 25th August, 1915.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officers in recognition of their gallantry and distinguished service in the Field:—

Captain Frederick Norman Chambers Rossiter, Royal Artillery, 26th Jacob's Mountain Battery, Indian Army.

For conspicuous gallantry on 13th June, 1915, in the operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula, when the enemy's high explosive shells had set fire to a gun emplacement and ammunition boxes; he extinguished the fire at great personal risk from the enemy's heavy fire as well as from our own ammunition, some of which exploded.

Captain Eversard Le Grice Whitting, Royal Artillery, 26th Jacob's Mountain Battery, Indian Army.

For consistently good and gallant service during operations near Gaba Tepe, Dardanelles, from 25th April, 1915, and especially on 27th April, in directing the fire of a warship whilst exposed to the enemy's heavy rifle fire.

Captain Whitting again displayed conspicuous gallantry on 13th June; when his emplacement came under severe fire he withdrew the whole of his men and remained himself in the position as an Observer, under heavy fire the whole time and at great personal risk.

Lieutenant Bernard Montague Basil Bateman, 108th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry on 10th June, 1915, near Ypres, when he was dangerously wounded in endeavouring to restore telephone communication under very severe fire.

Lieutenant Bateman has been noted for consistent gallantry, and was wounded on two previous occasions.

Lieutenant Charles Stuart Craig, 4th Battery, 1st Canadian Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry, resource and ability on many occasions, especially on 15th June, 1915, at Givenchy, when he used an 18-pounder gun in the trenches with great effect, destroying 40 yards of the enemy's parapet, two of their machine-guns, and a stretch of 75 yards of the wire entanglements.

Lieutenant Craig was seriously wounded on this date after he had completed his task, and was twice wounded on previous occasions.

Lieutenant Eric Edwin Longfield Lloyd, 1st Battalion (New South Wales) Australian Imperial Force.

For exceptionally gallant conduct on 5th June, 1915, during the operations in the Gallipoli Peninsula, in personally leading a party of 100 men to take a trench from which an enemy machine-gun was severely harassing his position. Although unable to remove the machine-gun owing to the heavy head cover, he destroyed it with rifle fire.

He personally shot two Turks with his own pistol, and with his party inflicted severe losses on the enemy.

Lieutenant Donald John MacDonald, Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability near Festubert on 24th May, 1915. Although wounded in three places he continued to lead his men with great dash in the advance to the attack on the enemy's position, and succeeded in entering their redoubt accompanied by two men.

Lieutenant Terence Patrick McSharry, 2nd Australian Light Horse Regiment (Queensland).

For exceptional bravery and resource on many occasions since 25th April, 1915, especially on night of 28th-29th May, during operations in the neighbourhood of Gaba Tepe, Dardanelles, in organising several assaults, and at great personal risk, making several valuable reconnaissances. He was again brought to notice for gallant conduct on the night 4th-5th June.

Lieutenant William Disraeli Sprinks (Brigade Grenadier Officer), 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Festubert on 21st-22nd May, 1915, in organising and directing the grenade company in the attack carried out by the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade.

Lieutenant Sprinks maintained the position gained by continuous bombing for twenty hours, during the whole time being subjected to very severe shelling, machine-gun and rifle fire.

Lieutenant Reginald Graham Trower, formerly 9th Battalion, The Border Regiment, attached 170th Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource when temporarily in command of the 170th Company, Royal Engineers, during two minor enterprises, (which included mine explosions) on 24th and 29th June, 1915, at Cuinchy. The success of these enterprises is mainly due to the manner in which Lieutenant Trower organised the offensive mining operations. His resource and courage were beyond praise and inspired the greatest confidence.

Lieutenant Robert Leigh Withington, 9th Field Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during operations south of Pilkem between 6th and 8th July, 1915, when he assisted in bringing an 18-pounder gun across the Yser Canal under fire, and in getting it into position in a gun pit which he had dug in the fire trenches within 60 yards of the enemy's sap. When the enemy's sap was blown in he superintended the joining up of our sap with that of the enemy under heavy and close fire.

Second Lieutenant Geoffrey Rowley Cassels, 175th Company, Royal Engineers.

For very valuable services, during the months of June and July, 1915, in conducting the mining operations at Hooge with conspicuous ability and energy, which materially contributed to the success achieved.

Second Lieutenant James Dickens, 4th Battalion, The Worcestershire Regiment.

For distinguished and gallant conduct on 4th June, 1915, during the action south-west of Krithia, Dardanelles. When his battalion's line was being consolidated after the attack a party of Turks threatened the left flank, and he at once organised a party and led a bayonet charge against them, which was entirely successful.

This Officer has done consistent good work since 25th April. He was previously brought to notice for coolness and gallantry on 18th and 19th June.

Second Lieutenant Richard Frank Parkinson, 63rd Field Company, Royal Engineers (Special Reserve).

For conspicuous gallantry at La Quinque Rue on the night of 1st July, 1915.

Second Lieutenant Parkinson then went out twice and rescued two wounded men whilst exposed to heavy fire.

Second Lieutenant George Streynsham Rawstorne, 2nd Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders (Ross-shire Buffs, the Duke of Albany's).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 4th July, 1915, north of Ypres, when he commanded the storming party which captured a German sap and covered the Royal Engineer party detailed to destroy the sap. He showed the greatest dash in carrying out this difficult task, and finally, although wounded, carried out the withdrawal most satisfactorily.

Second Lieutenant Arthur William Roberts, 4th Battalion, The Worcestershire Regiment.

For gallantry and coolness during the operations in the Gallipoli Peninsula in leading his men across the open in face of a very heavy fire and capturing some Turkish trenches on 18th-19th June, 1915.

Second Lieutenant William Parr Aldous Robinson, 135th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during operations between 6th and 8th July 1915, south of Pilkem.

He rafted his 18-pounder gun across the Yser Canal under fire, placed it in the fire trenches within 60 yards of the enemy's sap, and blew in the sap and some 30 yards of thick wire entanglements under very heavy shell fire, thus greatly assisting our infantry in capturing the enemy's position.

He showed great enterprise, and inspired confidence by his coolness. The gun was safely brought back the following night.

Second Lieutenant Arthur Eustace Stevens, 2nd Battalion, The Prince of Wales's Volunteers (South Lancashire Regiment), attached 1st Battalion, The Hampshire Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry in the operations south of Pilkem, on 6th July, 1915, when in charge of the grenadier platoon of the Hampshire Regiment, he led his men with the greatest courage, was the first man into the German trenches, and used his grenades with deadly effect until he was wounded.

Temporary Second Lieutenant George Wheldon Wanstall, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions during the operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula, especially on the 19th June, 1915, when he successfully repaired telegraph lines with the assistance of three men, making 35 joints in a space of 150 yards, whilst under heavy shell fire.

Lieutenant Wanstall performed similar valuable service on 5th and 7th July, on all occasions under shell fire.

Second Lieutenant Eric Fitzwater Wilkinson, 1st/8th Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment (Leeds Rifles), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on 15th July, 1915, near St. Julien, in assisting to carry a wounded soldier for a distance of 120 yards into cover under circumstances of great difficulty and danger.

Serjeant-Major George Edward Framingham, 1st Battalion, The Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry on 18th and 19th June, 1915, during operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula. In the final counter-attack on the Turkish trench he played a conspicuous part in bomb-throwing and in driving out the enemy. His gallantry on this occasion was very marked, and he has done excellent work throughout the operations since 25th April.

Serjeant-Major Edgar Paul, 1st Battalion, Prince Albert's (Somerset Light Infantry).
